Nathaniel Stinnett is the Founder & CEO of the Environmental Voter Project, a nonpartisan nonprofit that uses big data analytics and behavioral science to identify non-voting environmentalists and then get them to vote. Recently dubbed "The Voting Guru" by Grist, Stinnett was named one of the 50 environmental visionaries that you'll be talking about in 2016. He has over a decade of experience as a senior advisor, campaign manager, and trainer for US Senate, Congressional, and mayoral campaigns as well as issue-advocacy nonprofits. Formerly an attorney at the international law firm of DLA Piper, Stinnett holds a B.A. from Yale University and a J.D. from Boston College Law School, and he lives in Boston, Massachusetts with his wife and daughter.
