Townwide Candidates Voter Guide

Information contained in the Voter Guide: The LWVN asked candidates for townwide office to list their qualifications for office (300 character limit) and their most important goal if elected (500 character limit). Because Planning Board is a contested race, Planning Board candidates were asked four additional questions. The information from candidates for townwide office is printed directly as written by each candidate. Candidates' names are printed in the order in which they appear on the ballot.

Trustees should ensure the facility continues to be a desired, functional, well maintained green space for the residents of Needham to safely enjoy. Employing thoughtful & practical approaches to potential challenges or changes that may arise is vitally important. I am committed to a collaborative science-based approach within the Board, with the Department of Health and Human Services, and with the community.

Planning Board – 5 years/vote for 1

Planning Board is the only contested office, with three candidates running for one seat. For this reason, Planning Board candidates were asked to answer four additional questions (500 characters each):

- What experience do you have with zoning? How will you be prepared to balance the complicated zoning regulations with the needs or wants of the town, residents, businesses and developers?
- How would you suggest the Planning Board involve and communicate with residents regarding its deliberations and decisions?
- What role should the Planning Board play in diversifying housing options in town?
- How should zoning bylaws be changed to encourage or demand more green space and to reduce our carbon footprint?

Artie R. Crocker
17 Fairlawn Street
781-771-6651
artie.crocker@gmail.com
VoteArtieCrocker.com

Qualifications for Office: As Conservation Commissioner I work to regulate developments to protect Needham’s fragile wetlands. Community Preservation Committee, I help decide what town projects deserve funding, Town Meeting member I vote on zoning and bylaw changes. Finally, I am a renewable energy specialist and an engineer.

Top Goal: We are at a critical point in time where we have to increase the energy efficiency and sustainability in all our future building projects and codes. We need to protect our environment, the earth, water and the air we breathe; tomorrow is no longer an option. Low-income housing and the diversity in our community is part of what defines who we are as a community. Let us come together as a community with respect for everyone in our town. The Planning Board could and should be leading by example.

Zoning Experience: I have been before the planning board for over 16 years either in support of a zoning protect/article or in opposition of a protect/article. Each time I carefully read, researched and weighed the pros and cons of each situation. I always take into account the balance between quality of life of adjacent neighborhoods, the overall community of Needham and the important part which developers and businesses play in our town. All decisions come from that balance and the current zoning laws.

Involving and Communicating with Residents: Communication leads to more community involvement, and thus, better, stronger decisions. Transparency is essential. The voice of neighborhood groups needs to be respected. We can do this by involving residents early in the process and expanding access to meetings, including working group meetings between the Board and developers. In addition to social media and the town website, it should be incumbent on anyone coming before the PB to reach out to local residents personally or through the mail.

Diversifying Housing: Diversifying housing options in town takes cooperation among the Planning Board, Select Board, state agencies and others. Needham is an attractive community for good reason. Our schools & facilities, our rail & bus lines. Increase housing density in close proximity to public transportation. Reduce restrictions for current zoning of Accessory Dwelling Units allowing more options for residents to age in place. Always be open to creative ideas that help Needham be more open and diversified.

Environmental Zoning Changes: There should be a minimum green space requirement for all new developments. Needham should immediately create and implement a Tree Policy so that developers are not unnecessarily removing mature trees. New commercial buildings over certain sqft should be LEED Silver or Gold Certified. Any building funded with Needham taxpayer dollars, especially but not limited to schools, should have a net-zero goal. Promote climate awareness practices by using the successful Needham Unplugged as a model.

781-474-2807 (day)
857-991-0743 (evening)
jmccullen@gmail.com
www.justinforneedham.org

Qualifications for Office: I know how to work within a team and understand that while we may not agree on everything, it's important not to sacrifice meaningful progress in the face of differing opinions. Advancement through cooperation and compromise is in my experience, incredibly effective at enacting positive change.

Top Goal: I look forward to bringing town-wide comprehensive planning back to the top of the list for the planning board rather than being driven by reactions to proposals. My goal is to bring robust short and long term planning skills to the board while ensuring that meaningful public and stakeholder engagement drives the direction of the board. My approach to planning centers on listening to impacted groups and building consensus.

Zoning Experience: I have years of experience working in high-pressure situations that require short-term and long-term logistics planning. Transportation planning is integral to town planning and must not be an after-thought. My experience on TMAC has shown me that it is important to balance the needs of the entire town and build a long term framework supported by public consensus. I want to bring my experience, passion and respect for the benefits of proper planning instead to the source of frustration for many Involving and Communicating with Residents: Public comment is essential in the planning process. In addition to encouraging written comments, I would support dedicated time to allow for public input before final votes on projects. I believe in transparency and accountability in public elected boards and this can only be ensured by following the public process. The board can also better utilize social and local media outlets to ensure the public is involved in every step of the process.

Diversifying Housing: Zoning changes do not create large-scale change in a bubble. In housing availability and affordability, zoning is a small piece of a large, complicated equation. The Planning Board should look at the approach of other towns in the region and work towards consensus to modernize zoning laws to reflect the needs of our community.

ADUs are an example of a partial but pragmatic solution. It is a small but meaningful step the Town can take towards more flexibility in housing options.

Environmental Zoning Changes: I would support a study to creating incentives for “green zoning” and modifying our zoning bylaws to emphasize investment in better, more energy efficient buildings. A ‘density bonus’ could incentivize developers to exceed the normally allowed floor-to-area ratio. This would allow for denser residential housing developments in exchange for complying with energy efficient building standards like LEED. I support analyzing all the options and engaging with Town residents.

Oscar E. Mertz III
67 Rybury Hillway
electoscarmertz@gmail.com
www.electoscarmertz.com

Qualifications for Office: I am a LEED-certified planner and architect. I have worked on projects around the world for more than 30 years. I understand the ins and outs of design, planning, and development, and I can explain the jargon of policy and planning principles in an accessible way for all residents.

Top Goal: In order to represent our collective vision, it is key to seek out the voices of all residents. We must approach with intention the changes needed in order to evolve as a vibrant, just, and diverse community. It’s not about just one issue and it is critical we see how everything is connected. Determining how to create the greatest plan with all of these elements--housing, transportation, vibrant commercial areas, green space, climate action--is a top priority and has been the focus of my career.

Zoning Experience: Throughout my career I have responded to zoning regulations across the US and in other countries to create new planning and design projects on a variety of scales. I have also collaborated in revising zoning documents with municipalities to create new or transform and invigorate existing areas of towns and cities. In all cases, these experiences have given me perspective to find common ground and the balance among stakeholder, interest group, public sector and private development goals.

Involving and Communicating with Residents: I want to see more regular discussions and community engagement activities to assist the Board in goal-setting for town issues, and to foster and establish trust from our Needham community. Learning about what residents value and what they want for the future of our town is key and will help with bylaw and code reforms. I'm in favor of a Facebook page similar to the recently launched School Committee page to help keep residents informed. I would also like to host regular Zoom conversations.

Diversifying Housing: The Board should help engage and educate residents about housing affordability challenges and work toward a vision with appropriate zoning reforms to guide future growth. The Housing Plan Working Group, of which I am a member, is engaging the community and analyzing current trends and housing needs to formulate initiatives for the coming year. Implementing these zoning reforms will provide opportunities for greater housing choices, making Needham more affordable for new and current residents.

Environmental Zoning Changes: Reforms related to the MBTA Communities law will require bylaw changes to allow more multi-family housing near transit with modest housing density increases. An important and recognizable environmental benefit of housing density is more opportunities for shared green spaces for residents to enjoy. These targeted changes will reduce our carbon footprint with more energy efficient housing on a parcel. Building near transit stations promotes walkable neighborhoods and reduces car and parking needs.
